The rate engine and configuration tools allow you to configure rates, apply revenue management controls, and employ consistent rate terminology across the enterprise, while working independently or in combination with your revenue management system.

Enterprise.

Infor and SoftBrands reservation distribution management system is a comprehensive solution for hospitality businesses ranging from a single property to large hotel chains. The application is completely platform neutral, globally deployable, and highly scalable to grow with you as your business expands. This solution can help you increase revenue and occupancy by:

- ▶ Providing a consistent, real-time view of availability at the property level and at a corporate/central location for all channels of distribution
- ▶ Implementing your revenue strategies by controlling each channel independently or collectively

- ▶ Reducing rate erosion with the flexibility to provide rates openly or by allocation
- ▶ Applying varying degrees of control by channel

Customer.

Extend your market reach and attract new customers by increasing your distribution presence. You can use reports on past performance indicators to expand or revise your distribution strategy. Promote each property directly with each channel, including details about room types, rate plans, and amenities.

Knowledge.

Streamline your operations by allowing your revenue managers to spend their time managing revenue instead of maintaining repetitive rate data. Using our solution, you can establish baseline rate plans for your entire enterprise, and then create special rates—such as property, group, discounted, or other specialized rates—through simple adjustments from your baseline rate. The system allows you to maintain independent channels and set default parameters by which each channel will operate.
